The field of Medicine is being revolutionized by the arrival of big data analytics and machinery learning. We are incorporating our scientific content targeting this paradigm shift and focusing the future of critical care medicine. The faculties involved are stalwarts in the field of critical care medicine.

The scientific content ranges from the common issues faced in intensive care right up to the therapeutic dilemmas presented by overlapping problems with divergent approaches. Content will be so lucid that even young graduates can sharpen their critical skills in every new patient they handle in emergency. Our one day workshops will be for your focussed learning in Mechanical Ventilation, Shock management, USG in Critical Care, Nursing Critical Care, Antibiotic stewardship and Quality Control with error prevention.

In the conference, thematic topics will be covered. Our focus will be to bring you the tools to manage patient. We are indebted to some of our seniors and friends for their support to make it grand success.
